Insert Image

The screenshot shows the Google Sites editor interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Google sites', 'About', and a privacy lock icon. On the right, it says 'draft saved at 3:54 PM' with 'Save' and 'Cancel' buttons. Below this is a menu bar with 'Insert', 'Format', 'Table', and 'Layout'. A red arrow points to the 'Insert' menu. Underneath is a toolbar with various icons for text formatting (bold, italic, underline, text color, background color), alignment, and linking. The 'Add an Image' dialog box is open, showing two radio buttons: 'Uploaded images' and 'Web address (URL)'. The 'Web address (URL)' option is selected. There is an 'Image URL' text input field. Below the input field, there is a text box with instructions: 'If your URL is correct, you'll see an image preview here. Large images may take a few minutes to appear. Remember: Using others' images on the web without their permission may be bad manners, or worse, copyright infringement.' At the bottom of the dialog are 'OK' and 'Cancel' buttons.

The screenshot shows a web page with a code snippet in the background:

int& Test::setId( int newId )
{
    id = newId >= 0 ? newId : 0;
    return id;
}
```

 The main content of the page is 'CS 121 Our Digital World'. A context menu is open over an image, showing options: 'Link: Go to link: <http://zeus.cs.pacificu.edu/chadd/images/cs121.png> - Change - Remove' and 'Image: Align: L C R - Size: S M L Original - Wrap: on off - Remove'.

- Link to existing image
